Refreshments
& social hour
6pm to 7pm

Annual Meeting
7pm to 8pm

Katherine Thompson, Ph.D student in Biological Oceanography, URI Graduate School of Oceanography, will present the findings from their summer research which examined effects of stormwater Best Management Practices (BMPs) on fecal bacterial levels in the Narrow River. The project includes geospatial visualizations of data from the NRPA's River Watch Monitoring program, providing an intuitive and actionable view of river water quality changes.

Also speaking is Jane Henedy, Site Manager of Casey Farm, presenting
"Casey Farm: A Case Study in Climate Action Planning"

All are welcome to join NRPA's Board of Directors as they review the past year and provide updates on the Narrow River in 2024. NRPA members will elect new members of the Board of Directors.
